

BI-GIWEN: COMING HOME - TRUTH TELLING FROM THE SIXTIES SCOOP

Presented by: Legacy of Hope Foundation and Department of Canadian Heritage

The first of its kind, this exhibition explores the experiences of Survivors of the Sixties Scoop, which began in the 1960s where Indigenous children were taken from their families and fostered and/or adopted out to non-Indigenous homes often far away from their communities and some across the globe. Developed in partnership with the National Indigenous Survivors of Child Welfare Network, this innovative and challenging Exhibition features the first-person testimonies of twelve Indigenous Survivors of the Scoop, and reflects upon their enduring strength and resilience.

WARNING: This exhibition contains subject matter that may be distressing to some visitors and may trigger Survivors
